DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

1. Claims 7-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Boyd, Jr. (U. S. Pat. No. 4, 528, 485) in view of Ewing et al. (U. S. Pat. No. 5, 625, 241).
Boyd, Jr. discloses a three-phase dynamoelectric machine, comprising a winding packet (figure 2) that is penetrable by a rotating magnetic field, a number of winding (S1,S2,S3) of said winding packet being respectively connected together into at least one phase (T1,T2,T3) at which a dynamoelectric voltage is tappable, said winding being comprised of a number of parallel wound winding wires (S), out of at least three parallel wound winding wires (S) of a phase, at least two (S2B, S2C) being connected to separate phase terminals (I2) at each of which a partial dynamoelectric voltage is tappable, the windings constituting a main winding (S2B,S2C) and the windings (S2A) constituting an auxiliary winding, all the windings being located in a star-shaped configuration and being connected with one another in a center point. Boyd, Jr. discloses that the windings (figure 2) are constituted by a common conductor bundle. Boyd, Jr. discloses that the auxiliary winding has at least one winding wire.

However, Boyd, Jr. does not disclose that both windings of a phase being connected electrically parallel to one another. Boyd, Jr. does not disclose that the main winding has at least two parallel connected winding wires.

Ewing et al. disclose that both windings of a phase being connected electrically parallel to one another. Ewing et al. disclose that the main winding has at least two parallel connected winding wires (figure 10). The invention of Ewing et al. has the purpose of providing for different connection alternatives of the embodiment.

It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to modify the dynamoelectric machine of Boyd, Jr. and provide it with the winding configuration of Ewing et al. for the purpose of providing for different connection alternatives of the embodiment.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 7-8 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
